Questions & Answers There are no questions for this listing. Table Music System: The Bose III music system provides a rich and room-filled sound of a compact table music system that fits almost anywhere in your home. Waveguide Speaker Technology: Bose's proprietary Waveguide Speaker Technology combines with advanced digital electronics to deliver performance far beyond the size of the speakers. Two 26A" folded waveguides are precisely tuned to amplify the output of the transducers (speakers) to reproduce a realistic sound from the small enclosure. CD Player: The Wave III music system has a single CD slot for playing CD-Audio, CD-R and CD-RW. The player supports playback of MP3 music files (64-128kbps; 32-44.1kHz) recorded to CD-R or CD-RW. The playback of the disc is controlled from the included IR control. The song/artist information of the MP3 is displayed on the LCD front panel of the unit. Playback modes: While playing a CD, you can change the way it plays. Choose Play Normal, Shuffle (disc/folder/track) or Repeat (disc/folder/track). The playback mode will return to Normal Play each time a new CD is inserted. Search Functions: Search functions include Fast Forward, Rewind, Next Track and Anterior Track. Resume playback: When you play a stopped CD, it will always resume from where it stopped. Automatic Reload: If you eject a CD but do not remove it from the CD player slot within 10 seconds, the CD player will throw the CD back into the player, reload it and start playing. Note: Music files on an MP3 CD are played according to the folder structure of the disc. Advanced AM/FM tuner: The Bose III music system comes with a built-in FM/AM tuner. The tuner Advanced offers more accurate radio reception and RDS: When you select FM radio, the RDS information for the current station is displayed as the name of the artist and the titles of the songs (when available). Presets: Can store up to 6 FM radio stations and 6 AM for quick recovery. Radio Talk Mode: Radio Transmissions Talk Talk Seriously affected by the selection of the microphone or the increase of low frequencies by some radio stations. They do so in an attempt to improve speech when you listen to it through conventional radios. In high quality audio products, this results in sound that is unnatural or heavy bass. By selecting "Talk Radio" mode, your music system III automatically adjusts to compensate for artificially increased low frequencies. Note: The power cable of the music system III is used as an antenna for FM radio. If, after adjusting the position of the power cable, you still experience poor reception, you may need to install an external antenna. An external FM dipole antenna with a 3.5 mm connector can be ordered via BOSE customer service. AUX input: there is a 3.5 mm rear panel auxiliary input for connecting an external analog audio source, such as your smartphone or tablet. Headphones Out: The music system III comes with a 3.5 mm rear panel headphone jack for private listening. Plugging a set of headphones will mute the speakers in the music system III. If an alarm or the timer sounds while using headphones, it will sound through the speakers in the music system III. BOSE LINK: The Bose Link entry accepts the Wave III base (sold separately) for your iPod/iPhone and Bluetooth Wave music adapter (sold separately) for Bluetooth-enabled devices, such as your smartphone or tablet. The Bluetooth Music Adapter Wave III Dock and Wave Use the same link input as Bose and therefore cannot be plugged in at the same time. The music system III can also be used as an expansion speaker for the BOSE lifestyle system via the Bose link. Touch Pad & Remote Control: The Wave Music System III has a touch-sensitive switch underneath the upper, front, central area of the cabinet. Temporarily placing your hand on the touch pad can turn on or off the music system III. You can operate the volume, station selection and disc playback functions with the convenient IR wireless remote control. The remote control usually works within 20' of the screen. Screen of the frontal front panel Auto Brightness: The BOSE The Wave III System has a front screen that will indicate the configuration time, the identification of the station, the RDS text information and the ID3-TAG information (when available). The brightness level of the screen is adjusted automatically for low and high ambient light conditions. This feature illuminates the screen for better visibility in the high ambient light conditions and decreases the screen less intrusive in low ambient light conditions. High and low brightness settings can be configured independently. Alarm clock: The Bose III music system offers an alarm clock of 12 or 24 hours with dual alarms, Snooze and Sleep Timer. Dual alarms: two different, custom wake-up times can be established for each person's preferences (radio, disk, or beep, volume, etc.). This is useful if two people wake up at different times. SNOOZE: simply touch the tactile pad of the unit to activate the SNOOZE function. The Snooze time can be fixed at 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, or 60 minutes. Dream time: The dream timer can be configured to turn off the unit automatically after a selected period of time (10-90 minutes in 10-minute increments). Placement: Place the Bose III music system on a table or other flat surface. To enjoy the maximum audio performance, place the System of Site III through the room from where you will be listening. For the best audio performance, place the Wave III music system within 2' of a wall, and avoid placing directly in a corner. AC Power W / Auto Standby: The Bose III System works with standard current (120V ~ 50 / 60Hz, 60W) using its integrated power supply and the 8' removable AC power cable. After 24 hours of any button press the system is changed to standby (off). If the 30-minute system wait timer is enabled, the system changes automatically waiting if no audio is reproduced and no buttons are pressed for 30 minutes. Note: If the Wave III music system loses power due to a power cut or disconnect the drive to move it, the entire system will be kept permanently. However, the time of the clock will only be temporarily stored in the backup memory for a maximum of 48 hours. hours.
