Little Caesars Menu with Prices (2025) – Latest Pizza, Sides, and Deals If you’ve ever found yourself wondering what’s actually worth ordering from the Little Caesars menu and prices, you’re in the right place. Whether you’re grabbing a HOT-N-READY® on the way home or checking out their latest specialty pizza, this guide offers genuine, practical insights not just a dry list of menu items. I’ve been a fan (and occasional critic) of Little Caesars menu and prices for years. From last-minute game night orders to those unexpected cravings for Crazy Bread®, I’ve tried most of what they offer. Here’s what you need to know before placing your next order. Pizza Options: What’s Worth It? Girl judging different pizzas with thumbs up and down icons, dramatic background, and bold text saying “What’s Worth It” Little Caesars built its reputation on affordable, ready-to-go pizzas. Here’s how the lineup stacks up: Pepperoni & Cheese ($5.99 to $6.99): Simple, classic, and always available. Perfect for a cheap, no-frills pizza night. ExtraMostBestest® ($6.99 to $7.99): If you want more toppings for just a little more money, this is a solid step up. Detroit-Style Deep Dish ($8.99 to $10.99) :Thick, crispy edges and a lot of cheese. If you love pan pizza, this is a must-try. Stuffed Crust Pepperoni ($9.99 to $11.99) : More indulgent, but pricier. Worth it if you love extra cheese in every bite. Thin Crust Pizza ($7.99 to $8.99): Surprisingly good. If you prefer crispy over doughy, this might be your favorite. Real Take: The ExtraMostBestest® is the best value for toppings, but if you’re a crust fan, the Detroit-Style Deep Dish is worth trying. Specialty & Limited-Time Offers Little Caesars rotates special menu items throughout the year. Right now, some of the most talked-about options include: Pretzel Crust Pizza ($7.99 to $9.99): A fan favorite that comes and goes. The cheese sauce version is extra rich. Slices-N-Stix® ($6.99 to $7.99) :Half pizza, half cheese sticks, great for dipping. Hula Hawaiian® ($7.99 to $8.99): If you’re into pineapple on pizza, this one’s for you. Personal Experience: I tried the Pretzel Crust Pizza with cheese sauce instead of regular pizza sauce. It’s really different, if you like salty, buttery flavors, go for it. If not, stick with traditional options. Sides & Extras: Are They Worth It? Little Caesars’ sides are hit or miss, depending on what you expect. Crazy Bread® ($3.99 to $4.99) : Iconic, buttery, garlicky. Always a good choice. Crazy Sauce® ($1.29) : Essential for dipping. Italian Cheese Bread ($4.99 to $5.99) : A heavier, cheesier alternative to Crazy Bread®. Caesar Wings® ($6.99 to $8.99) : Available in BBQ, Buffalo, and Garlic Parmesan. Decent, but nothing extraordinary. Cookie Dough Brownie ($3.99 to $4.99) : Surprisingly rich for a fast-food dessert. Honest Opinion: Crazy Bread® is a must-have, but the wings can be hit or miss depending on freshness. If you’re getting wings, go during peak hours when they’re made fresh. Best Value Deals & Combos Whether you’re feeding a group or just yourself, these meal bundles offer serious savings without compromising on flavor. Combo Name What You Get Price Best For Pizza & Bread Bundle Large pizza + Crazy Bread® + sauce $9.99 2 to 3 people Family Feast 2 large pizzas + Bread + Wings $14.99 4 to 6 people Lunch Combo 4-slice pizza + 20 oz. drink $5.99 1 person Ordering Tip:The Family Feast is the best value for families or groups. For solo diners or lunch breaks, the Lunch Combo offers a filling meal for under $6. Little Caesars Menu Nutrition & Dietary Considerations For those watching calories or managing food allergies, here’s a look at nutritional info and allergen warnings for top menu items: Item Calories per Slice Allergens Cheese Pizza 250 Dairy, Wheat Pepperoni Pizza 280 Dairy, Wheat Stuffed Crust Pizza 300 Dairy, Wheat Crazy Bread® 150 Dairy, Wheat Caesar Wings® 120 to 180 Soy Little Caesars Menu Hacks & Secret Options Half & Half Toppings: Some locations let you split toppings on a pizza just ask. Well-Done Pizza Hack: Request a “well-done” pizza for a crispier crust. Budget Move: Grab a HOT-N-READY® pizza and add a Crazy Sauce® for just $1.29 instead of upgrading to a more expensive specialty pizza. A: Prices vary by location, but expect to pay between $5.99 and $7.99 for a standard large pizza. What’s on the Little Caesars $5 menu? A: The HOT-N-READY® cheese and pepperoni pizzas used to be $5 but are now around $6 in most areas. Is the Crazy Bread® actually good? A: Yes! It’s buttery, garlicky, and soft especially when fresh. But it can be hit or miss if it’s been sitting too long. Does Little Caesars have a secret menu? A: Not officially, but you can customize your order with extra toppings, special requests, or half-and-half pizzas. Conclusion Little Caesars offers great value, especially for quick and affordable pizza. If you’re looking for the best experience, go during peak hours for the freshest food, and don’t sleep on the Crazy Bread®! Littlecaesarsmenus.com is your go-to source for everything Little Caesars. Founded by Mike and Marian Ilitch, it started with a single oven and a simple goal: to serve great pizza made with care. Today, it stands as the third largest pizza chain on the planet, with locations in all 50 U.S. states and across 27 countries and territories. The journey from one neighborhood store to a global name speaks volumes about the brand’s commitment to quality and value. To make ordering easier and safer, Little Caesars now offers contactless delivery and carry-out through its easy-to-use app. Every pizza is baked in a 475-degree oven for reliable food safety and handled with care. Once it leaves the oven, it’s never touched again. What sets Little Caesars apart is its commitment to quality. Every product uses fresh, never frozen, mozzarella and Muenster cheese. The pizza sauce is made from vine-ripened California tomatoes, packed fresh to lock in flavor. Every ingredient matters here, and you can taste the difference in every bite. FAQs Who owns Little Caesars? Little Caesars is owned by Ilitch Holdings, a private company based in Detroit, Michigan. The company was founded in 1959 by Mike and Marian Ilitch. Today, their son, Christopher Ilitch, serves as President and CEO of Ilitch Holdings. Currently, Little Caesars does not offer gluten-free pizza crusts. Their menu primarily features traditional wheat-based crusts. For those with gluten sensitivities or celiac disease, it’s advisable to consult with the store directly before ordering. Little Caesars does not have a standard policy of giving out leftover pizza to customers. However, the company operates the Love Kitchen program, a mobile kitchen that travels across the country to provide free meals to those in need, including disaster survivors and the homeless. Little Caesars offers pizzas in various sizes: Large Round Pizza: Typically 14 inches in diameter, cut into 8 slices. DEEP!DEEP!™ Dish Pizza: A Detroit-style deep-dish pizza, usually 8 slices. Little Caesars’ famous $5 Hot-N-Ready pizza was a staple for years. However, due to rising costs, the price has increased slightly in many locations. As of now, the Hot-N-Ready classic pizza is typically priced around $6, though prices may vary by region. To reach Little Caesars customer service: Phone: Call their customer service line at 1-800-722-7727. Online: Visit Contact Us page to submit feedback or complaints. For issues related to a specific store, contacting the location directly may provide a quicker resolution. Acceptance of EBT (Electronic Benefit Transfer) cards at Little Caesars varies by location and state regulations. Generally, EBT is not accepted for hot, prepared foods. However, some locations may accept EBT for take-and-bake pizzas or other eligible items. It’s best to check with your local store for their specific policy. Yes, Little Caesars accepts Apple Pay at many of its locations. This allows you to pay quickly and securely using your iPhone or Apple Watch. However, it’s important to note that acceptance of Apple Pay may vary by location, especially in franchise-owned stores. Therefore, it’s advisable to check with your local Little Caesars to confirm if they accept Apple Pay. Little Caesars store hours can vary by location. Generally, most locations open around 11:00 AM and close between 9:00 PM and 11:00 PM. However, it’s best to check with your local store for exact hours, as they may differ based on regional policies and demand. Little Caesars accepts various payment methods to make your ordering experience convenient: Cash Major credit cards (Visa, MasterCard, American Express, Discover) Debit cards Mobile payment options (Apple Pay, Google Pay) Little Caesars gift cards Please note that accepted payment methods may vary by location, so it’s advisable to confirm with your local store. The easiest way to break down pizza boxes for the binMost pizza boxes don’t fit in standard trash cans. Here’s the easiest way to cut them down.As more restaurant chains revamp their meals and deals, Little Caesars is the latest to launch a value menu – the company’s first-ever, the fast pizza chain says.Called the “More for $9.99” menu, the online-only deal launched on July 7 and consists of a $9.99 combo that includes the brand’s most popular items, such as Crazy Puffs and classic pizzas.In a news release, Chief Marketing Officer Greg Hamilton called the value menu a “bold move that provides unbeatable variety and flavor at a price that speaks for itself.”Here’s what to know about the deal and how to get it.Customers who buy from the value menu can choose among the following options for $9.99:Two large classic pepperoni or cheese pizzas (or one of each flavor)A classic pepperoni pizza and an order of Crazy Puffs A Fantastic Four-N-One Pizza with Crazy Bread and Crazy Sauce A pretzel crust pizza with Crazy Bread and Crazy Sauce A Crazy Puffs Party Pack with twelve pepperoni or Cheese Crazy Puff (or a combination of both flavors)The $9.99 menu is available online only, so customers must order via www.littlecaesars.com or through the company’s mobile app. Customers cannot order from the $9.99 menu in stores.Little Caesars was founded in 1959 and is based in downtown Detroit. According to the company, the company has restaurants in each U.S. state, as well as 30 countries and territories.Little Caesars is just the latest restaurant to launch a value menu following a surge in the discounted meals in spring 2024. McDonald’s, Burger King and Wendy’s were the first to announce deals in May 2024 after customers expressed concern about inflation and higher food prices.McDonald’s also extended its $5 Meal Deal, which first launched in June 2024.According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the consumer price index went up 2.4% from March 2024 to March 2025. Food prices increased 3% over a 12-month period ending in March 2025, the agency said.Wth inflation ever-present, value meals have become a staple on some menus and like Little Caesars, some are still launching.Contributing: Mike Snider, USA TODAYSaleen Martin is a reporter on USA TODAY’s NOW team.
