With a wide variety frozen treats, shakes, and chilled beverages on the menu, choosing a drink at Dairy Queen can be an overwhelming decision. This definitive guide breaks down all available beverage options at DQ locations this year by category so you can find the perfect thirst-quencher.Creamy MilkshakesDairy Queens claim to fame, the classic DQ milkshake has been a signature menu item since the 1940s. Thick, frosty, and irresistibly creamy, shakes are made from DQs legendary soft serve blended with milk and come in a variety of indulgent flavors.Heres a breakdown of standard shake sizes, along with calories:SizeSmallMediumLargeOunces12 oz16 oz22 ozCalories530-640660-910860-1230Shakes range from $3-6, with malts and larger sizes costing slightly more. Popular flavors include:Chocolate Rich, silky chocolate syrup blended with soft serveVanilla Smooth, creamy vanilla flavor, often with mix-insStrawberry Sweet, fruity flavor made with real strawberry toppingCaramel Tully, decadent caramel swirled into thick soft serveMint Chip Cool mint ice cream with chocolate chips mixed inLimited edition shakes in 2025 will include Girl Scout Thin Mint and Snickers flavors.According to Dairy Queens VP of Marketing, milkshakes remain their highest-revenue drink item, accounting for over 20% of total annual sales. Shake vs MaltFor an extra rich, thick shake, customers can upgrade to a malt by adding malted powder which gives shakes almost a spoonful texture. Malts cost $0.50-$1 more than shakes.Fruit SmoothiesDQ locations with Orange Julius offer real fruit smoothies blended with yogurt and juice for a lighter refreshment. With under 500 calories on average, smoothies come in flavors like:Strawberry Banana sweet strawberry and banana blended with nonfat yogurtTriple Berry mixture of strawberry, blackberry, and raspberryMango Pineapple tropical mango and pineapple2021, DQ reported a 7% increase in fruit smoothie purchases showing their growing popularity as a healthier drink option.Coffee Drinks: MooLattesMooLattes are DQs take on iced coffee drinks like popular Starbucks Frappuccinos. These creamy, cafe-style beverages mix coffee and soft serve blended with ice, milk, and various flavorings like chocolate fudge or buttery caramel. Topped with whipped cream, MooLattes come in three flavors:Mocha smooth blend of chocolate and coffeeCaramel Sweet Caramel swirls give this drink added richnessVanilla pure vanilla bean makes this a DQ classicRanging 450-780 calories on average, MooLattes offer a cooler, bolder way to get your caffeine fix at DQ.Icy & Creamy: Misty Slush and Misty FreezeWhen temperatures rise, the Misty menu cools things down with their take on flavorful slushies and floats. Misty Slushes are icy, granita-style drinks mixing fine ice crystals with bright fruit syrups and juices. DQ reports the blue raspberry Misty Slush as their single top-selling slush flavor.For an extra cold and creamy treat, Misty Freezes blend slush with soft serve ice cream. Enjoy these frosty beverages in summer flavors like:Blue RaspberryCherryMangoStrawberry KiwiSo dont just settle for a soda on your next Dairy Queen visit. With indulgent shakes, fresh fruit smoothies, chilled caffeinated coffee drinks, and icy slushies, theres a delicious chilled drink for every taste and craving on their menu all year long! The Blue Raspberry Misty Slush is a tart/sweet frozen drink that's pretty delicious on its own, but ask your server to add a little of DQ's famous soft serve, and you've got a surprisingly tasty dessert. It's like a chocolate shake, but so, so much better. Cocoa fudge (a thick, chocolate syrup-like mixture) is combined with slushy base and then blended with vanilla soft serve to give your favorite wintertime drink a summery makeover. This shake isn't on the menu, but a lot of DQs keep it in stock all the same. It's like the popular shamrock shake at McDonald's, only you'll feel like you're in a secret club when you're slurping it. Speaking of Mickey D's, if you love their off-menu peanut butter and jelly Blizzard, why not try the same old-school goodness in a shake? DQ already offers peanut butter shakes, just ask them to mix some fruit topping in as well. You'll feel like you're back at story hour snack time. Don't let lactose intolerance keep you away just because "Dairy" is right there in the restaurant's name. All of their smoothies can be made with an ice-based mixture. Because who really wants to get a fork involved with their ice cream? Get a banana shake then add your serve of chocolate and caramel sauce as well as some fruit topping. Finish it with some whipped cream, and you've got yourself a fun-friendly banana split.
