Á «Love Yourself» is a song recorded by Canadian the Justin Bieber singer for her fourth album in Study Purpose (2015). The song was published as a single promotional on November 9, 2015 and as a single third party of the album on 7 December 2015. It was written by Ed Sheeran, Benjamin Levin and Bieber, and produced by Levin. An acoustic pop song, Á «Love Yourself» has a main instrumentation an electric guitar and a short turbine of trumpets. During the song, Bieber uses a husky tone in the lower registers. Literally, the song is a kiss to a former narcissist who hurt the protagonist. In the Billboard Hot 100 and in the UK Singles Chart, the song has become the third consecutive number of Bieber, where in the United States spent 24 non-consecutive weeks in the top ten (then named the most performing single of 2016) and it was also the first issue of Bieber in the Adult Contemporary Chart, while in the United Kingdom spent six weeks at the top. Á «Love Yourself» has reached the summit of the rankings in 15 countries, including Australia, Brazil, Canada, New Zealand and Sweden. Á «Love Yourself» was named for two Grammy Awards: Song of the Year and Best Pop Only Performance. It was the seventh sold more than 2016 in the United States. [3] The music video of the song was published together with the Purposeo project: The Movement on November 14, 2015. There are Kone & Mari Madrid dancers who make an interpretative dance in a home. Bieher has promoted the song with television shows and prizes throughout 2015Á »16, inserting it in the ladder of its purpose world tour. Background and release and Sheeran (in the picture) initially wrote Á« Love Yourself »for its album ÁFÁ - Before giving him to Bieber. On September 29, 2015, Justin Bieber announced in an interview with the Sunrise Morning Show Australian that the British singer-songwriter and Sheeran had written a song for the album of him. [4] Later, during an interview for Capital FM, Bieber revealed details on the song, saying: Á«We are only one guitar and. Basically it's so that I started, playing on the street with the guitar. "About Sheeran, he said: "I think it's one of the most talented writers of the game right now, so just to have his contribution, the His stories and stories and compare them together and say Á € ™ "What did you spend?" And tell the same story. " [5] [6] In another interview for the same radio network, he has the collaboration, stating: Á«It was a process. They're just taking us, taking. You know, in the same room because we got so separated. He's a good guy, super talented. Really good singer-songwriter so just to be able to work with that caliber of singer-songwriter was really, really fantastic. " [7] In 2017, Sheeran revealed that "Love Yourself" was written for her album. He said in an interview that the track would be discarded before Bieber took the song. [8] On November 9, 2015 "Ami te stesso" premiered on Beats 1 along with "The Feeling." [9] The song was also made available on iTunes on the same day as a promotional single. [1] and was later announced as the third official radio of the single album. [10] When speaking with Ryan Seacrest, Bieber said "Love yourself" is "Surely about someone in my past, someone who don't "Do you want to wear explosions", he described the song as "cool because so many people can resonate with that because how many women we bring back that mom is not necessarily necessarily necessarily necessarily necessarily" [11] Composition and text "Love Yourself" (0:23) Á 23-second sample of Chorus "Love Yours". [11] Problems playing this file? See help from the media." Lov And Yourself "» was written by Ed Sheeran, Benny Blanco and Justin Bieber, with production by Benny Blanco, who was also responsible for the instrumentation and programming of the song. It features lyric voice by Bieber and background vocals by Sheeran. According to the music sheet published on Musiconotes.com by Sony/ATV Music Publishing, the song is composed in the key of a major with a moderate beat of 100 beats per minute and a time signature of 44. Bieber's voices range from Bieber's note B2 to B3. [12] is an acoustic pop song, with the right voice and an electric guitar. [1] [13] and a short burst of trumpets, [14] which has been considered "the most subdued and less electronic newest of Bieber's new tracks." [1] Lyrically, "Love Yourself" is a kiss for a narcissistic ex-lover who played the wrong lead. [15] [9] with Bieber singing in a snappy tone [16] while criticizing "a girl for loving him too much. " [17] In the pre-chorus, she sings in a husky tone in the lower registers. [16] "My mom doesn't like you, and she likes everybody", in a style that sets Sheeran well" According to the Brittany Spans of Rotolaling Stone. [1] "And I [never] admit that I was wrong, And I was so surprised in my work, I didn't see what's going on, and now I know. I'm better sleeping on my own", he continues. [1] In the Chorus, Bieber sings, "cause if you like the way you look so much, oh baby, you should go and love yourself", [17] which according to Digital Spy's Amy Davidson, ""Love yourself" means "Go to *Y by yourself" in this context. " [18] On March 7, 2017, composer Ed Sheeran stated that he stated that he had rhanna in mind for the song at the beginning, and the lyrics He was really "fucked." [19] In the song's bridge, Bieber uses a brass-and-vocalesse style. [20] Critical Reception The song received critical acclaim. Andrew Unterberger of Spin called it "AN"AN Á cruelly laughing kiss-off track, it features a caliber of lyrical detail unparalleled for Beber, and its minimal arrangement allows any lyrical beard to burst like one of the song's palm-mutes. For these sour grapes, however, "Love Yourself" still sounds exhilarating; one of the many memories of this year that, despite his insistence on being a good person, Bieber could still be served as a Top 40 heel!" [14] Leah Greenblatt of Entertainment Weekly praised the song as one of her favorite of the season. Amy Davidson of Digital Spy agrees, calling it "the world's first diss track" [18] Sheldon Pearce of Complex praised "Sorry" and "Love Yourself. " "for "showing the best of Bieber in tandem: the "Love Yourself" song [13] recorded by Bieber and much background. Bieber "exaggerated his renewed spirituality ... doing as John Mayer did [22] Josh Gonzalez of the Music Times thought the song was "a change of pace and notes musically to his 2014 duet, with Cody Simpson atHome to Mama Á", adding: "Bieber is a great singer and he's good on acoustic tracks". [23] Consequence of Sound editor Janine Schaults, "all credit goes to Sheeran's magical powers. Refreshing, only a guitar and a solitary trumpet interlude accompany Bieber's timid delivery" [24] Michelle Geslani of the same publication believes that the song "sounds exactly what one would expect from a meeting of these two minds", considering it "Thinking Out Loud" crossed with Bieber low-key" [25]. Kitty Empire, writing for The Observer, appreciated the song for "stripping[] it all comes down very effectively to a guitar line and a voice." [26] Annie Zaleski of the A.V. Club was a bit mystical, noting that "despite being a deadly kiss to a former snob, she is a bit mystical. It's a generic acoustic pop." [27] In a less favorable review, Brad Nelson of Pitchfork wrote that, verbatim, "it's unnecessarily mean, neither funny nor clever, and doesn't help much to justify the severity of his perspective". [28] Al Horner of the NME noted that the song is Á"More traditionally Bieber, and his big pop hook [s] out of place in the middle of the forward-looking electronic spaceship". [29] Sam C. Mac of Slant Magazine called the text "involuntarily hilarious". [20] Alex Macpherson of the National called it "a stucco-working collaboration with Ed She [30] Billboard ranked "Love Yourself" at number 34 on their list of the "100 Best Pop Songs of 2016." United States Bieber became the first male artist after Justin Timberlake (pictured) in 2006 to reach three number one in the United States in the United States, the It debuted at number four on the "Billboard" Hot 100, giving Bieber the ninth song in the top ten and the third consecutive debut in the top ten by Purpose. She debuted at number two and four on Digital Songs and Streaming Graphs respectively, with 141,000 downloads and 20.4 million flows. [32] The following week, took to the number seven on the heat 100. [33] Two weeks later, it rose from seven to five on the heat 100, in the meantime it's the "sorry" of Bieber and "What do you mean?" They were number two and four respectively. So, as it did three weeks before when "loves yourself" debuted at number four, Bieber had three competing songs in the first five hot, becoming the third act to reach him from 50 pennies in 2005. Bieber and the Beatles are the only one It acts to earn the honor as a main artist on all three songs. [34] On the graph of 6 February 2016, "you love yourself" ascended by three to two on the heat 100, in the meantime it was the "excuse" of Bieber was at number one. With the company, Bieber has become the 17th minute in the history of Hot 100 to classify the numbers one and 2 simultaneously. It was also the eleventh act to keep the first two of 100 years as a main artist on both songs. [35] In the following week, "he loves yourself" replaced "Sorry" at the top of the chart on December 4, 2015. Bieber is the first artist to replace the top of the chart by Elvis Presley in 2005. "Love Yourself" has marked the third consecutive song of Bieber in Britain.[45] The following week, the song remained at the top of the chart with 114,000 combined sales and "Sorry" stayed at number two, which made Bieber the first artist to beat himself out of the first place with both songs holding one and 2 for two consecutive weeks. [48] However, the single climbed to point number one next week, recording a fourth week at the top and supporting the first song number one of 2016. [49] The following week, he remained at number one, making Bieber the first UK Singles Chart artist to occupy the top three points of the chart simultaneously with "Sorry" at number two and "What Do You Mean?" climbing a three-seat place.[50] "Love Yourself" spent six non-consecutive weeks at number one. [51] On January 4, 2016, the Official Charts Company announced that "Love Yourself" earned 719,000 combined sales. [52] Australia In Australia, "Love Yourself" debuted at number three on the ARIA Singles Chart, after the release of Finale, giving Bieber his fifth single top-three in the country. That week the singer had three songs inside the top ten: "Sorry" (2), "Love yourself" (3) and "What do you mean?" (7).[53] Two weeks later, "Love Yourself" was the country's most streaming track and rose to number two, also earned a gold certification for sales of over 35,000 copies. [54] In his fourth week, the song climbed from two to one, dethroning "Hello" by Adele and earning a platinum certification for sales of over 70,000 copies. With this, Bieber became the only act to have two number one songs in 2015 after the previous single "What Do You Mean?", which passed the chart for four consecutive weeks in September. [55] The song remained at the top of the chart the next two weeks. The third week at the first, Bieber's "Scusa" and "What do you want Mean?" were at number two and eight. With this, Bieber became the first act to dominate the first two positions since Macklemore and Ryan Lewis did in 2013 with "Same Love" and "Shop Thrift". It was also the first act to have three singles within the top ten of the chart since 2012. [56] The song was the first song number one of 2016 and spent seven consecutive weeks at number one, which puts Bieber at number 8 on the list for the most accumulated weeks (11) at number one in 2010. In addition, it is its longest solo number in Australia in Australia. [57] [58] "Love yourself" has also surpassed graphs in Sweden, Ireland, New Zealand, the Netherlands and Denmark.
