It also refers to Facebook to work on such a live sound functionality, which could be introduced sometimes by the end of the year. Source: Android Central Discord is rolling Krisip.i Integration in your Android app. Once enabled, users will be able to make more clear vocal calls with Noise suppression in tow. The KRISP integration has arrived first to the DISCORD desktop. Discord wants to be a better app for your vocal calls. The company has already added the suppression of the background noise to its desktop app, but now it is leading to mobile phones. In a partnership with Krisp.AI, Discord has created what is effectively a virtual microphone that pushes all the noise generated by non-human. There will be no barking, no keyboard typing, no crying baby, etc. Aided on your calls everything while this is enabled. You could say that keep your voice calls crunchy and clear. "Krip uses the magic of learning machine to filter everything that is not a human voice," explained the discord. "If connected to a voice channel, enable the audio wave icon to filter the background noise and volIA". No matter what is happening around you, your voice will be crisp and clear." Here's how Krisip's suppression will work in practice. The demand for voice and video call has only become cultivated while we are socially spaced during the Coronavirus pandemic, and technology as Krip will help us remain clearly connected as existing in noisy and lively environments. This update is rolling to mobile discord for both iOS and Android. Discord offers traditional messaging and group features for the communities, but can also be used to perform the voice and the video call chat A e A - "the latter of which are improved by KRISP. Source: INTERSLOTH communication is fundamental If you are looking to find out who among you is the impostor in our midst, the last viral multiplayer shot available on PC, Android and iOS. In the midst of us, crew members must work together to understand which of the players It is the impediment, while the settlers have to do their best to hook into the shadows and take out the crew. It's a very tense and very fun game that is perfect for parties and meetings, both physical or virtual. Currently , among us does not present a voice chat in-game, but there are some options if you want to talk to your group. The last party hit the work together to find the impostor in the middle of you, or avoid detection and kill them Everyone if you are the impedimen To. Source: InnoSloth only because among us does not have a voice chat in-game you can not chat with your friends, you will only need to do it through other means. There are many third-party chat apps to choose from, but the most versatile is discord. Discord is a communication app that allows you to create chat rooms for almost every need. It is the perfect place to host meetings only in invitation with all your friends. It is very simple to use, as well. Discord works well on your phone and on your computer, so you shouldn't have trouble connecting to each other, no matter which sound platform. Come together Source: Innersloth sometimes the simplest solution is the best. Among us was originally imagined as a game to be reproduced in the same room, so why not honor the developers' intentions? Communicate in real life opens a series of complexity that could be lost on vocal chat. I hope you have a good poker face, because the discussions could be heated. Make sure you only maintain social spacing guidelines while you do it. Someone hides between us, whether you are the impediment and hunt for crew or crew members trying to hold together the ship, between us is a fun social deduction game that is sure to be A success for your next virtual or real life together. Make sure you only set up rules to satisfy your way of playing. If you are using discord, for example, dead players should silence so they don't give to Those who killed them. And don't forget to use the text chat to communicate with players who are not in your tailored chat room. Watch your back work together to find the impostor in the middle of you, or avoid detection and kill them everything if you are the impediment. Source: Android Central Telegram today rolled a powerful new update, update, Part underestimated App experiences messaging - voice chat. Previously, you can send voice notes, just like the offer of Messenger app alternatives. It's still there, but it is coming up to 11 in groups. Now, Telegram adds a new feature to the chat group known as voice chat. Described as a "persistent [Call] Conference that members can join and go as please", it is one of the largest messaging App updates throughout the year. The telegram groups get a new dimension with voice chat A e A - "persistent conference call running in parallel to the existing text chat. The live voice chat add one layer of ephemeral words with the group and can be used as informal living rooms or virtual office spaces.https://t.co/08dyfmwok6 pic.twitter.com/13xcszuzobAeA⁹ "Telegram Messenger (@telegram) December 23, 2020 It is similar in concept discord, club house and Twitter spaces, and it is essentially the telegram jumping on a growing trend ahead of the other "big names" can do it. The voice chat for up to several thousand people, allowing a call to really large group. Telegram is focusing appearance audio of this for now, but the major changes are expected in future versions to differentiate it from its competitors raw audio: as groups of telegrams in front of them, we hope that the chat chat cambinoranno the way people collaborate and maintain touch. In the coming weeks, we will refine them further, listening to your feedback, improving noise suppression and adding other features such as video sharing and screen on Android, Telegram has added a floating widget to so system-wide can continue to use the voice chat even when you're in another app. Source: Telegram Telegram has also made improvements for file storage on Android, allowing users to move data Telegram app from their memory of the integrated phone and its SD card for users with phones that support SD cards. There are also new app-wide animations, new adhesives and new emoji, you can view the complete list of changes here. These updates, while a significant improvement of a good app already good, there is the most remarkable thing of the telegram this week. Founder Pavel Durov announced its intention to start monetizing the app. Commit not to sell to Facebook or other large companies, however, he has pre-announced a series of paid features not specific that would be for powist users and corporate teams. Durov it is also committed no advertising, at least on a messaging screens. He let the opportunity to examine the ads in the menus similar to Facebook Messenger. Writing in a blog post shared on the telegram, Durov said: If the telegram start earning money, even the community should benefit. For example, if monetizziamo large public university public channels through advertising platform, the owners of these channels will receive free traffic in proportion to their size. Or, if the telegram introduces premium stickers with more expressive features, the artists that make this new type of adhesive will also receive part of the profit. We want millions of creators based on telegrams and small businesses to thrive, enriching the experience of all our users. Durov said that these changes will ensure that free telegram will remain forever for regular users, but this is a promise that will be difficult to maintain. How many users of free services previously know, forever it is a long one. An app excellent messaging continues to improve, Telegram is the competitor of WhatsApp you should With slick animations and a lovely design, it's an experience you will like you if your friends are already on the app. app. app.
