Our online tool handles everything automatically, so you can focus on understanding the content rather than manual summarizing. Text summarizer is an online summarizing tool that helps summarize an article or a long text to a specified short length. It condenses a long article into main points. The need for a text summarizer is increasing day by day, because of time constraints. People are looking for shortcut methods to learn ideas in less time. Even the text summarizer is helping to decide whether a book, research paper, or article is worth reading or not. Oxford defines summary as a short statement that gives only the main points of something, not the details. What is Text Summarization? Text summarization is a process that summarizes a longer piece of content into a shorter yet comprehensive overview. Its primary purpose is to quickly deliver the most important ideas and arguments from the original content. Paraphraser.io's summarizer analyzes the text, identifies key phrases, and then compiles them into a summary. It allows you to rapidly extract vital information from any document, making lengthy materials immediately useful for your specific needs. Modes of Our AI Summarizer: Paraphraser.io has developed a few approaches over time for summarizing a long text into a shorter one. You can choose how the summary is generated. Here is how these various modes work. Extractive Summarization: This approach entails the method to extract keywords and phrases from sentences and then join them to produce a compact, meaningful AI summary. Abstractive Summarization: Our AI summarizers algorithms are developed in such a way to reproduce a long text into a shorter one by using NLP. The text retains its meaning but changes the structure of sentences. Standard Summarization: This approach provides a straightforward, general summary of the text. It selects the most important sentences to give a concise overview. Custom Summarization: The custom summarization allows you to define specific parameters for the summary. This gives complete control over the summary's output. How does Paraphraser.io's Text Summarizer Work? Paraphraser.io's text summarizer is trained by machine learning. It uses the concept of abstractive summarization to summarize an article, a book, or a research paper. Prompt: Write a summary for senior marketing leaders of these findings on the persuasive nature of VR and AR video advertisements. Summary generated by Grammarly: A conceptual review suggests that virtual reality (VR) and augmented reality (AR) video advertisements can persuade consumer attitudes. Incorporating VR and AR technology can help build stronger brands, engage audiences, and provide unique experiences for customers using their mobile devices. Six research prepositions were identified to facilitate the investigation of consumer attitude persuasion based on the literature. Additionally, variables such as advertisement quality, demographic differences, and the technological context of VR and AR advertisements can facilitate central route persuasion, while source credibility, social presence, and message content in VR and AR advertisements were found to be the persuasion factors under the peripheral route. Overall, the study provides a method to examine consumer attitudes through VR and AR advertisements using the ELM theory. *This summary came from an article titled The persuasion effects of virtual reality (VR) and augmented reality (AR) video advertisements: A conceptual review. Prompt: Write a summary of this article on medieval agricultural systems for an academic audience. Summary generated by Grammarly: During the Middle Ages in Europe, from the fall of the Western Roman Empire to around 1500, farming practices, crops, technology, and the agricultural economy and society are discussed in this article. The population of Europe decreased due to epidemics, climatic cooling, and frequent crop failures. Peasant farmers and serfs grew crops for themselves in the feudal system that began around 1000. The most important crops in most European regions were barley and wheat, as well as oats and rye. Oxen and horses were used as draft animals, and sheep were raised for wool and pigs for meat. The medieval system of agriculture began to break down in the 14th century with the development of more intensive agricultural methods, and after the population losses of the Black Death in 1347-1351, more land was made available to a diminished number of farmers. To summarize, the article provides an overview of the farming practices, crops, technology, and agricultural society and economy of Europe during the Middle Ages. *This summary came from an article titled Agriculture in the Middle Ages.
